

LUXURY CARS

*W*hat will it be today? The Lambo or the Ferrari? While such questions might trouble the minds of the super-rich, it can now be your problem too. Ecurie 25 is a supercar private club based in Old Street, London, where you pay a monthly fee for access to some of the most stunning four-wheeled machinery on the planet.

Qualifying members (there are age restrictions and they want to make sure you're a reliable driver) pay a one-off joining fee of £750; £8,450 gets you between 35 and 40 days, depending on which car you take out, and on what days.

If you're just dropping in to London for a day or two and need to impress clients, how about a stunning, classic Ferrari Dino 240, from Bespokes? It'll set you back £475 for the day, but you won't be forgotten. The London-based company has a mouth-watering array of vehicles on tap, and will deliver to anywhere in Britain.

In continental Europe, there's no shortage of similar schemes; Elite Rentacar will deliver you a super-prestige car, from a Mercedes CLK to a Bentley GT, to any location you choose, and have bases in Geneva, Zurich, Paris, Milan and Frankfurt, among others. They'll even meet you from your plane, rather than you having to queue up.
